

Interested in pursuing a career in Business Aviation?

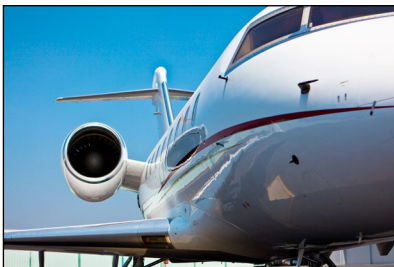

The National Business Aviation Association (NBAA), together with the Southern California Aviation Association (SCAA) are hosting an event that will give you insight into a variety of careers working in and around private business jets and what you can be doing now to pursue that career.

When: Wednesday, February 27th
2013

Where: Long Beach Airport (KLGB)
AirFlite
3250 Airflite Way,
Long Beach, CA 90807
5:00pm-6:00pm

A panel of business aviation professionals representing various careers in the field of business aviation will share how to pursue a career like theirs and be available to answer your questions. Considering a career as a pilot, maintenance technician, flight attendant, operations specialist, dispatcher, sales, finance, accounting, or marketing professional? This event is for you. In addition to the panel discussion, each attendee will receive a complimentary pass to attend the NBAA Business Aviation Regional Forum, scheduled for the following day Thursday February 28th.

Long Beach Business Aviation Regional Forum

NBAA's Business Aviation Regional Forums are daylong learning and peer networking venues designed to meet the needs of regional business aviation communities, and to provide an introduction to local leaders interested in learning more about the industry. With over 100 Companies, 20+ aircraft and 1,800+ attendees, it's a vital meeting place of the industries leaders.
